

The Gramophone (UK)
August 2006

Name Ingrid Fliter piano

Age 32 Born in Argentina

What you should know

Argentina's newest piano star 'broke' America this year with the prestigious Gilmore Award.

What you should hear

Live Beethoven and Chopin performances on VAI Audio

I HEARD INGRID FLITER at the Busoni International Competition in Bolzano where although she won only fourth prize, the vitality of her playing, her style and originality immediately captured me.

I could not understand why she was not placed higher by the jury. My impression was proved several times in her subsequently performances. Ingrid Fliter is an excellent and fascinating performer who is not afraid to approach the extreme edges; but I feel she also has the possibility of reaching the golden mean. On the surface she is a Chopin specialist but her taste and style protect her from the mistake of approaching Chopinesque other composers. She is also familiar with contemporary music and her instrumental technique is amazing. She is ready to give many performances of lasting value.

Zoltán Kocsis